After a lifetime of hard work,

you deserve to enjoy your golden years

Congresswoman Linda Sánchez is defending our right...

...to a safe and secure retirement

Preserving Social Security

Keeping our commitment to seniors means protecting Social Security-the most successful government program in our nation's history. Social Security serves as a safety net for millions of Americans that not only includes retirees, but also the disabled and those who receive survivor benefits due to the death of a family member. I remain deeply committed along with many other Members of Congress to oppose the privatization of Social Security, and I remain committed to protect your guaranteed benefits to keep the system solvent for future generations.

Protecting Your Pension

Americans who have worked a lifetime to earn a pension should not see that promise broken. Today, far too many corporations are declaring bankruptcy and cutting pensions, while rewarding a few executives at the top. This is completely unfair and that is why I am a cosponsor of the "Pension Fairness and Full Disclosure Act" (H.R. 2233). This bill would establish new protections for the pensions that people have worked their whole lives to earn.

Making Prescription Drugs More Affordable

America's seniors pay too much for prescription drugs while foreigners can buy the exact same drugs-often made in the United States-at much lower prices. A month's supply of an osteoporosis drug that sold for $170 in the U.S. can be purchased for $45 in Canada. Our seniors deserve these savings. That is why I support the "Pharmaceutical Market Access Act of 2005" (H.R. 328) which would allow seniors access to cheaper FDA-approved medicines and allow seniors to save money by importing prescription drugs.
